

An aerial photograph of a large property in Antioch, Virginia, outlined in red. The property is divided into several distinct areas: a large blue-shaded area on the right, a green-shaded area at the bottom, and a smaller blue-shaded area in the center. A yellow line outlines a larger area that includes the blue-shaded areas and the green-shaded area. A dashed black line outlines a specific area within the green-shaded region. A yellow dot is located in the center of the property, near a large blue pond. The background shows a mix of green fields, brown earth, and blue water features.
